“I wish I had the money to underwrite all your ministry needs right now—but then I would be robbing you of the opportunity to experience the faithfulness of God!”

A blue-tinted photograph of a residential courtyard. In the background, there is a two-story building with a balcony. Large trees are visible behind the building. In the foreground, there is an outdoor seating area with tables and chairs, and several potted plants. The overall scene is a peaceful residential space.
